PREFACE.

THE preparation of this Genealogy was begun by the senior editor for his own gratification many years ago. A large correspondence grew up with persons of the name far and near and an accumulation of facts of general interest. The services of Mr. Harry E. Gifford were called into requisition to aid in the work of copying from private and public records, to arrange the matter thus found and carry on the correspondence. Personal matters compelled him to ask to be relieved from the work in 1901; and the help of Mr. Pope was obtained to continue the undertaking. At the end of a year the editors found themselves at the point of publication, as they felt, and asked for subscriptions for the issue of the work. The response was not sufficient to encourage the effort, and the editors, both heavily burdened with other cares and labors, laid the matter aside. The conviction at length forced itself upon them that the book ought to come out, and its publication was resolved upon.

While the work has been passing through the press much material has been obtained from careful search of public records and from correspondents. In but few cases have any of our applications for co-operation been refused or replies delayed beyond our necessary limits of time.

But we wish to thank most heartily the large number who have been exceedingly prompt and liberal in their assistance.

INTRODUCTION.

THE TOBEY (TOBIE, TOBY) family is an ancient and reputable one in England. Its origin would appear to the writer to be a familiar form of the Scripture name Tobias, often given as a Christian name, derived after the analogy of Davy from David, Willey from William, etc.

The earliest record of the name, in any of its forms, in New England is found in the annals of the General Court of Massachusetts Bay Colony. They relate to a man who seems to have been in the country only a few years, and who does not appear to have been related to the Sandwich or Kittery pioneers.

"6th Octobr, 1634, FRANCIS TOBY being fined 10£, hee is discharged of the same."

The man was again before the Court in less than a year.

"7th July, 1635, ordered that Francis Toby (for misdemeanor by him committed) shalbe bound to his good behaviour and shall putt in suretyes for the same, or else to remaine in holde."

Whatever his offence the Court softened towards him, for we read

"8th July, 1635, There is viii £ of Tobeyes fine of x £ remitted him."

"June 7, 1636, John Jobson, shipmaster, undertooke and bound himselfe in a sum set of 10£ to answer [answer] for Frauncis Tobey any damage not exceeding 10£."

The same date Jobson was discharged from his surety, and the fact was again recorded under date of Sept. 6, 1636.

What was the offence? The record does not intimate; very likely some mere informality, the breaking of some petty rule or "red tape." The laws of the Colony were so angular that even such orderly persons as Sir Richard Saltonstall, Ensign Jennison, Mr. John Humphrey, with many others, had fines imposed on them in those days. The man was a person of some standing, we judge, for the notary Thomas Lechford has a record of a suit about an apprentice who had been placed by "Francis Toby, of Rotherhith, county Surrey, shipwright" in the year 1635, and we judge the two sets of records refer to the same person. But he does not show himself here after Jobson extricates him from the mazes of Puritan law. Possibly we might find by search that he was connected with one or more of the Tobies who came here and cast in their lot permanently with the people of New England; but there is nothing now known in this direction.

The next man of this name to appear in our New England records was THOMAS TOBEY (also called Tobe, Toby, Tobie and Tobbye in the public documents of the day), who was a very early settler in the town of Sandwich, at the head of Cape Cod Bay, in Plymouth Colony.

Freeman in his History of Cape Cod quotes the following entry concerning this man:

"Thomas Tobie, Sr. subscribed 7 shillings for the meeting house the 6 mo. 7, 1644."

Perhaps Thomas had been in the plantation still earlier; some one has invented the tale that he had been living on Long Island before this time and came thence to the Plymouth Colony settlement. But all probabilities are against this theory, and not a line of evidence has been produced to prove the statement.

We may well believe that he had come from some English home not long before the date of his helping in the erection of Sandwich meeting-house in 1644. His biography will be given as fully as our knowledge will allow in later pages.

HENRY TOBYE was a resident of Exeter, New Hampshire, "5th day, 4th month, 1639," when he signed the "Combination" of planters, and was still living there in 1640 when the instrument was re-affirmed. He had died or removed before "12th, 8th month, 1649," we infer from a deed of John Bursley to Edward Gilman bearing this date, conveying among other tracts of land "one house lot that was Henrye Tobies," with all the meadows and privileges which went with the lot. All search for other items about this Henry has failed to disclose any trace of him.

But not far away from Exeter, at the mouth of the Piscataqua river, in Kittery, Maine, dwelt JAMES TOBEY, in the latter part of that seventeenth century. The incomplete records of town, church and colony at that period give us no note of the man earlier than June 24, 1687, when a lot of land was granted to him by the town in its orderly apportionment of lands; and the hand of an Indian warrior took his life 21 May, 1705, cutting off his son and namesake James Tobey, Junior, the same day. But we shall see that he left several sons and daughters, through whom a large progeny has descended. Of him and his descendants as full accounts as possible will be given in succeeding pages.

We thus see that there were four Tobies in New England in colonial times: Francis, a transient resident of Boston; Henry, for a few years a landholder in Exeter, then vanishing from our sight as the former had done; Thomas, of Sandwich, and James, of Kittery, who gave their strength and lives to the founding of our nation and whose blood has flowed on in the lives of thousands of worthy descendants in this and other names.

Two important questions arise at this point: First, Were the Sandwich and Kittery pioneers related? Second, Whence came they?

To the first it may be said that there is no similarity of Christian names in the two groups which suggests connection, and no correspondence or community of interest which indicates it. To the second our only reply is that neither of the colonists left on record a line that points to his birthplace or relations.

The writer believes that search in the Probate and parish records of England—the country from which every token indicates that they came—would result in discovering the origin of both men, with many items concerning their circumstances and the condition and history of their ancestors. May it not be hoped that the interest developed by this book will lead a number of the family throughout the United States to combine with the writer soon and secure such a search? Correspondence is solicited.

In making up this book we place the Sandwich branch first, for the reason that it appears in colonial records many years the earlier, and the dates of marriage of the sons lead to the belief that Thomas was somewhat the older man. So in constructing the title we arrange the different spellings of the name in the order of the number of persons following them, as shewn in our correspondence, in directories, and in public records and books, conceding equal honor to each of the three forms presented.

The most prevalent spelling of the name by persons of the Sandwich and Kittery families has been Tobey. Yet it is but fair to observe that of the sons of Thomas Tobey of Sandwich, Nathan signed his name "Tobie," and Gershom his "Toby," while the oldest grandson, Thomas, spelled his "Tobye."

PART FIRST

THOMAS OF SANDWICH AND HIS DESCENDANTS

THOMAS TOBEY OF SANDWICH AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

THOMAS¹ TOBEY (recorded also as Toby, Tobye, Tobe and Tobie in the town and colonial records), came at an early date to Sandwich in Plymouth colony, Massachusetts. The town was settled by ten men of Saugus (afterward Lynn), in the spring of 1637; but we have few items of town proceedings for a long time, the earliest pages of the old book being lost. The earliest mention of this man is the statement quoted by Freeman in his History of Cape Cod:

“Thomas Tobie Sr. subscribed 7s. for the meeting house on the 6 mo., 7. 1644.”

The town records of Sandwich are much mutilated at the beginning, and this entry does not now appear; but it was undoubtedly read by Mr. Freeman before the book had lost so many of its early pages.

The statement has been made by a number of persons that “Thomas Tobey came from England to Long Island early in the seventeenth century and remained there till about 1640, when he came to Plymouth Colony and settled at Sandwich.” But I find no evidence whatever that this is correct. Indeed there were removals of settlers from Sandwich and other Massachusetts towns to Long Island. Rev. William Leverich, minister of Sandwich at an early day, removed to Oyster Bay, L. I., in 1658. But all probabilities are against the legend that Thomas Tobey or any other man of his period, having resided on Long Island, migrated eastward to Sandwich!

In the town annals Thomas Tobey appears as a man of good sense and energy, called by his neighbors to act in various public capacities which required more than usual ability and judgment. Nov. 7, 1652, he was one of a committee appointed to take care of all the fish that were taken by the Indians within the borders of the town, and have them sold for the benefit of the town treasury; he was also one of those designated to oversee the cutting up of the whales which not infrequently drifted or were driven ashore on the flats, and sometimes became the occasion of serious strife between the inhabitants. He brought suit against a neighbor in 1653 "for retaineing a yearling calfe," but lost his case. His tax for the year 1654 was 2 shillings, 6 pence. He subscribed 5 shillings toward the building of "a place for publick meetings" in 1655, and a pound a year toward the support of a minister in 1657. In the latter year we find his name among those who took the oath of fidelity to the colony. In 1658 he was chosen constable, an office requiring accuracy in accounts and energy in collecting taxes as well as handling prisoners, etc.; was sworn at the court in Plymouth, June 1, 1658. In the same year he was chosen one of the "Ratars," i. e. assessors of rates or taxes. The town paid him 4 shillings on a certain occasion for "haveing the strangers to Plymouth," which perhaps refers to his being sent, as constable, with wayfarers, believed to be Quakers, to place them in the jail at the seat of government. He was one of the highway surveyors and "pundor" or pound-keeper in 1660; on a committee to lay out a new pound in 1662; on a committee of reference in 1664-5; appointed to meet with Barnstable men about boundary in 1659; a jury-man in 1663 and 1668; excise officer from 1662 to 1668; member of a grand inquest in 1670; in charge of the letting out of town lands in 1668. 23(2)1675 his name appears in the first list of townsmen extant. A council of men was selected in 1676 to "hire men to goe out upon the scout for the town," and to assign soldiers to duty, furnish amunition, etc., in the time of King Philip's war; and he was one of the three citizens to whom this important duty was assigned.

Lands for Rev. John Smith, the minister of the township, were laid out in 1673 by a committee of which Thomas Tobey was a member. He contributed to the repairs of the meeting house in 1676; acted as an auditor on the accounts of the constable with Mr. Bourne in 1678.

Liberty was granted him to have additional land in July, 1681, and he was authorized to look for it, having the assistance of Mr. Bourne and Mr. Edmond Freeman in the search; "if any can be found he is to have fifty or threescore acres thereof upon report to the court," runs the record. [Plym. Col. Rec.] A tract of ten acres "formerly granted to Samuel Knott," was also laid out to him in 1699. His name is one of the twenty who were members of the Sandwich church "when Mr. Cotton was ordained Nov. 28, 1694." [Oldest page of the church record extant.]

The first marriage of Thomas Tobey of which we know is thus recorded in the town book of Sandwich:

"Thomas Tobie and Martha Knott were married the 18th of November, Anno 1650."

Martha was a daughter of George Knott, one of the ten founders of Sandwich, and his wife Martha. Mr. Knott had died about a year before this marriage, leaving a will in which he anticipated that Martha would marry Thomas Dunham, who had "pretended" to be "contracted" to the girl; but the family disapproved of the match, and Dunham married another maiden while Martha yielded to the wooing of "Thomas Tobie," and became the mother of seven sons who lived to maturity and whose descendants have done credit to her.

Mrs. Knott, Martha's mother, lived in Sandwich some years, as the records show; her life was not free from trials, for she was one of those persons who, having attended religious services away from the regular place of worship (Quakers or Baptists), were brought before the court for "non-attendance," a fiction which persecutors in Europe had long practised and from which Puritans did not at first cut loose. Samuel Knott, a brother of Mrs. Tobey, survived his brother-in-law, and was remembered in his will.

Mrs. Martha Tobey died at some time not on record, and her husband married, second, after 1689, certainly, Hannah, widow of Ambrose Fish. As "Mrs. Tobey" she took care of William Cleare and Elkanah Smith in their sickness, and the town voted March 20, 1705, to pay her 2½ shillings. She survived Mr. Tobey and died in March, 1720-1, leaving a will which conveys much interesting information about family connections; we give it below.

The records of Sandwich, as we have seen, gratify our desire for details of Thomas Tobey's life to a limited extent. In the Probate records of Barnstable county we further discover that he was one of the appraisers of the estate of Sergt. Benjamin Foster, Oct. 16, 1690. At the date of his will in 1710 he was evidently in full possession of his faculties, as is definitely shown by the particular bequests and arrangements he made. Notice that he remarks upon his age; that he mentions each of his surviving sons and gives legacies to the representatives of those who had passed away; that he tells the number of his surviving daughters if he does not gratify our curiosity by calling them by name; that he makes the fact apparent that his second wife was a widow when he married her by bequeathing to her the property she brought at their marriage; separate wifely property not being recognized then to any extent save when a widow married whose children's rights had to be guarded; and the testimony given to his former marriage by the provision for life—care and decent burial of the surviving brother of his former wife.

The will was probated the last part of the month. The estate was appraised at £ 95 : 15 : 3.

Children, order unknown:

2. i. Thomas,² b. in Sandwich, Dec. 8, 1651.

3. ii. John, birth-date unknown ; townsman in 1681 ; father in 1684.
4. iii. Nathan, birth-date unknown ; townsman in 1681 ; father in 1686.
5. iv. Ephraim, birth-date unknown ; townsman in 1681 ; father in 1691.
6. v. Jonathan, birth-date unknown ; townsman in 1694 ; father in 1694.
7. vi. Samuel, birth-date unknown ; townsman in 1699 ; father in 1697.
8. vii. Gershom, birth-date unknown ; townsman before 1702 ; father in 1697.

Besides these sons there were "three daughters," as we learn from the father's will. If they were his own children it seems strange that he did not specify their names or those of their husbands. Documents of the vicinity and period have been searched for clues but no trace of these "daughters" has been found. It is not impossible they may be the three daughters of his second wife Hannah (by her former husband Ambrose Fish), who are named in her will at a later date ; two of them had married sons of Mr. Tobey and the third was a neighbor.

Notice that the widow speaks of her "six children" but specifies her three daughters and their husbands.

THOMAS² (*Thomas*¹), born in Sandwich, Dec. 8, 1651 ; died in Yarmouth, Feb. 2, 1676-7 ; married Mehitabel, daughter of John Crow (name since called Crowell) of Yarmouth ("Nobscusset"). She survived him, and died a widow in 1723. He removed to Yarmouth (the eastern part now Dennis), and in the same place his descendants continued.

At the prerogative Court held at Barnstable march the 6th 1688 : 9 The settlement of the estate of Mr. John Crow Sen Late of Yarmouth deceased was ordered as followeth (that is to say) that John Crow the eldest son of the sd deceased to have and Injoy the house and all the Lands of his sd deceased Father after the death of his mother mehitabel Crow and the sd mehitabel Crow to have and Injoy the third part thereof during her natural Life and three pounds In Apparel to Samuel Crow the son of the sd deceased and Just debts being paid the sd Mehitable the relict of the sd deceased to have the third part of the rest of the estate; mehitable crow and Lidya Crow the Daughters of sd deceased having had already considerable of theirs) the other two thirds of his personal estate to be equally devided between his children Samuel Crow Jeremiah Crow Elizabeth Crow Susanna Crow and Hannah Crow and the sd John Crow the son of sd deceased to pay out of his own estate the sum of twenty shillings to Thomas Toby grandson of sd deceased within a twelve month after the date above written and to his sd brother Samuel Crow the sum of forty shillings presantly after the marriage or death of the sd mehitable Crow his mother.

[Barnstable Prob. Bk. 1, p. 26.]

The fact that the son Thomas was the only representative of this family to receive a legacy from his grandfather Tobey in 1710, seems to show that he was the only one then living; such evidence is simply negative, but the fact that we find no trace of any other child of this Thomas² in the colony is further evidence that Thomas³ was the only survivor of this family.

9. i. Thomas,³ b. Feb. 2, 1678.

NATHAN² (*Thomas*¹), born in Sandwich at a date not now known, was enrolled as a townsman of the plantation June 27, 1681, and was referred to in honorable ways in after years in the same place.

He married (according to the Sargent Genealogy) Mary Sargent^{} who was probably the mother of Seth and Deborah. The long interval between the recorded births of children from 1689 to 1697 may indicate that he married his second wife about the latter date. She was Sarah Fallowell, of whose connections we have the following very interesting particulars in a deed of land.

"Nathan Tobey of Sandwich, Samuel Barrow, of Middleborough and Susanna, his wife, and Sarah Tobey, being heirs to the three fourth parts of the estate which our grandmother Sarah Fallowell and our uncle William Fallowell, both late of Plymouth, died seized of; and whereas the court, 13 June, 1729, settled the whole upon our brother William Tobey, of Plymouth," they deeded their shares to John Cooper and Nathaniel Thomas June 26, 1729, in confirmation of a deed which William had made to the same parties.

The date of Nathan Tobey's death is not recorded but may be inferred from the date of his will and the time of its probating.

Lemuel Tobey was 1st Lieutenant, on muster and pay roll of Capt. Thomas Crandon's company; enlisted July 15, 1775; served 5 months, 19 days. This is probably only a portion of the service he rendered. The title "gentleman," used by him in deeds, etc., after the Revolution, was based upon the fact of his having been a commissioned officer.

He exchanged with his brothers Elisha and William lands inherited from their father, Elisha, 1789-1791.

Lemuel of New Bedford, gentleman, with wife Elizabeth, sold land March 17, 1794, and in 1803. He afterward removed to Fairhaven. After his death the widow sold a house and lands to her son-in-law Thomas T. Terry.

IN MEMORIAM. CAPTAIN SILAS TOBEY.

"Died of yellow fever, at Point Petre, Guadaloupe, Jan. 31, 1817, Capt. Silas Tobey, of Kingston, Plymouth County, Mass., aged thirty years, captain of the brig Prince Eugene, belonging to his father, Hon. Samuel Tobey of Berkley. Seldom does society receive a deeper wound, and the social and domestic circle a more distressing loss, than is inflicted by the untimely fate of the deceased. Endowed by nature with a clear and discriminating judgment, an ardent and open temper, which were matured, and improved by a liberal education and an extensive intercourse with mankind, he seemed peculiarly qualified to discharge the various duties, and participate in the numerous joys which spring from the civil and social relations. And those to whom he was known can testify how well, while he lived, he fulfilled the high expectations of his acquaintance, and how fully he gratified the joyous hopes of his relatives and friends. Alas! these fond hopes and expectations have become blighted only by his premature death. Though he had resided but a few years in Plymouth County, perhaps there never was an instance of a person of his age so soon attracting the notice of the virtuous and respectable, and enjoying general confidence and respect. . . . He passed through life with honor, and left behind him a name remembered with affection and respect. But while we lament his untimely fate as a loss to the community, we are aware there are those on this occasion whose loss is too great to be described, and whose sorrows are too deep and too sacred to be revealed.

“For him no more the blazing hearth shall burn,
Nor tender consort wait with anxious care;
No children run to lisp their sire's return,
Nor climb his knee, the envied kiss to share.”

The widow married second, Phineas Sprague, being his second wife; his daughter, Hannah Brown Sprague, two years old at the time of his second marriage, became the wife of her son.

Charles Richmond Tobey was born in Dighton, and became a sailor while still a youth. His son, who has assisted in the compilation of this book, refers to the fact that both his maternal uncles were whalers; that his father and uncle Henry were also whalers, his uncle Theodore being also a sailor, but in the merchant service. Like many another sailor, however, Mr. Charles Richmond Tobey joined the gold seekers who went in 1849 in large numbers from New Bedford and vicinity to California. There he met his death.

Another who knew him says: "I never heard any one speak of him but in the highest praise, and remember many times hearing people say he was the best man they ever knew."

EDWARD SILAS TOBEY.

Hon. Phineas and Hannah (Brown) Sprague,* born in Duxbury, July 28, 1821, died Jan. 4, 1898. After a long and eminently successful and useful life, Mr. Tobey died March 29, 1891. He was a man of strong religious principle, of sterling integrity, generous and benevolent, and of gracious and courtly manner. He was a total abstainer from intoxicants, and an active promoter of the Temperance reform; he was an ardent Christian of the Orthodox school, a man of faith and works well blended. We quote from The Boston Journal of March 30, 1891, the following account of the leading events of his life and the estimation in which he was held.

Hon. Edward S. Tobey, well known as a former Postmaster of Boston, died suddenly last evening at his home on Harris Street, Brookline. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

Mr. Tobey was born at Kingston, Mass., April 5, 1813. He was a son of Silas Tobey of Berkley, and grandson of Hon. Samuel Tobey, also of Berkley, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Taunton. Mr. Tobey began his education in the school on Mason Street, Boston, and finished it in the High School at Duxbury. He had originally intended to enter Harvard College, but ill-health forced him to change his plans. He received the honorary degree of A.M. from Dartmouth College in 1861. In 1830, on his return from a voyage to Spain, he re-entered the counting-room of his stepfather, who was the senior partner of the old established firm of Phineas & Seth Sprague, extensively engaged in foreign and domestic commerce as shipowners. There he continued until 1860, having been taken into the firm in 1833. In 1838 he was chosen Director in the United States Insurance Company of Boston. In 1839 he was chosen Director of the Commercial Bank, and was a Director in the Union Bank in Boston from

* Mr. Tobey was descended on his mother's side from Dr. Samuel Fuller of the Mayflower; from John Alden and Priscilla Mullens. Mrs. Tobey was descended from Francis Sprague who came to Plymouth in the Anne in 1623, and from William Sprague of Charlestown, who was a son of Edward Sprague, of Upway, Dorsetshire, England. In another line she was descended from Capt. Myles Standish, the redoubtable defender of Plymouth colony, and also from John Alden and Priscilla Mullens, as her husband was.

1842 to 1866. He was also a member of the Board of Managers of the Suffolk Savings Bank. He was one of the founders of the Boston Board of Trade, and was Vice-President of the Board in 1859, and President in '61, '62 and '63. In 1861 he became a Director in the Union Steamship Company, and Chairman of its Building Committee for the construction of two iron steamships of 2000 tons each. They were built by Harrison Loring of South Boston, and were named the Mississippi and the Merrimac. They were to run between Boston and New Orleans, but were prevented from so doing by the outbreak of the war.

He was one of the Trustees of Dartmouth College for eight years, and was the first to contribute to the Webster professorship. He was for several years a Trustee of Bradford Academy, and a generous giver to its funds.

He was appointed by President Grant a member of the first Board of Commissioners on Indian Affairs; remained in the board three years; declined the offer of the appointment of Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

He was also a Director in the Boston and Southern Steamship Company, and Chairman of its Building Committee for the construction of two iron steamships, the South Carolina and the Massachusetts, which were also built by Harrison Loring, and sold to the United States Government. During the war Mr. Tobey was appointed by Gov. Andrew a member of the Committee on Harbor Defences. As President of the Board of Trade, he received a confidential telegram from Secretary of War Stanton requesting the appointment of three persons to confer with others from New York, Philadelphia and Washington to devise the most effectual method of destroying the rebel ram Merrimac. The Boston delegation consisted of Mr. Tobey, ex-Mayor Lincoln and Mr. J. C. Converse. In 1861 he was one of three delegates, appointed in behalf of the Board of Trade, to meet delegates from the Boston, New York and Philadelphia banks, Chamber of Commerce of New York and Board of Trade of Philadelphia, in Washington, to confer with Secretary Chase and Congress as to the financial policy to be adopted by the Government. In 1861 Mr. Tobey became President of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association. As Chairman of its Army Committee, he was actively engaged in co-operation with the United States Christian Commission.

Through the agency of this committee supplies in aid of sick and wounded soldiers were distributed to the value of $1,000,000. Soon after the close of the war he became one of the 100 corporators of national asylums for soldiers, located at Hampton, Va., Dayton, O., and Togus Springs, Augusta, Me.

In 1866 Mr. Tobey was elected to the Massachusetts Senate. In 1875 he was appointed Postmaster of Boston by President Grant. He was reappointed by President Hayes, and again by President Arthur. He brought to the duties of his office a long business experience, and fully believed that they should be administered on business principles. The increase in the volume of business during his administration is measurably indicated by the increase of gross receipts in money from $940,000 to $1,550,000.

Mr. Tobey was the first President of the Fall River Steamboat Company. He was the first Treasurer of the Russell Mills, Plymouth, Mass., a successful duck manufacturing company, and had continued in that office since 1854. He held official relations to many educational, religious and philanthropic institutions, among which were the Congregational Association, American Missionary Association, Boston Missionary Society, American Peace Society, Discharged Soldiers' Home, Pilgrims' Society, Dartmouth College, Bradford Academy, Historic Genealogical Society and Webster Historical Society. In 1871, as President of the Pilgrims' Society, he was concerned in deciding upon the memorial to the Pilgrims' observance of their first Sabbath in America, which was spent on Clark's Island, Duxbury. In 1861, when the founding of the present Institute of Technology was under consideration by the Legislature, Mr. Tobey was one with others to address the Legislative Committee in its behalf, and it was through his personal influence that Dr. William J. Walker became interested in the projected institute, and gave for its establishment the large sum which secured the legislative grant of land for the institution. Mr. Tobey held official relations to the institute for several years.

Mr. Tobey was a member of Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, from the first year of its foundation, 1842, under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Kirk. He was Treasurer of the society for 18 years, and for several years Chairman of the Prudential Committee. In April, 1883, he moved to Brookline, and entered into church relations with the Harvard Church. Mr. Tobey leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

Children, all but the youngest, born in Boston:

Woman's Christian Temperance Union, as the successor of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, and was re-elected for six annual terms. Declining another term, she gave herself entirely to the work to which she felt divinely called, that of evangelism. For fourteen years she conducted special services in connection with churches of various denominations in each of the New England states, auxiliary to the pastors. In these services it is estimated that many hundreds began the better life in response to Miss Tobey's appeals and efforts. One particular experience of great interest was her preaching in the Orthodox Congregational Church of Berkley, of which her great-great-grandfather, Rev. Samuel Tobey, was pastor a century and a half before.

CHARLES⁷ (Jonathan Howes,⁶ Seth,⁵ Seth,⁴ Thomas,³ Thomas,² Thomas¹), born in Dennis in 1831. He left his native town in the opening of his manhood and betook himself to the expanding young city of Chicago. He opened a furniture store on State Street, south of Van Buren, in the year 1856, his place of business being 20 by 60 feet. The following year his brother Frank Bassett Tobey came to help the enterprise onward, and the brothers rose rapidly to the front rank of the business. Doing all their work, economizing as well as pushing forward, they were able to weather the severe financial panic of those years and to advance in every way. Though burned out in the fearful conflagration of 1871, they improvised a salesroom and made gains replace their losses, soon having much larger business than before. The Tobey Furniture Company was organized in 1875, Charles being president and Frank B. manager.

Charles died in September, 1888, honored and lamented. He was unmarried.

As a very young voter he wrote the call for the first convention of the infant Republican party in his native town. Went to Chicago in 1857 and put himself in the service of his brother, whose partner he soon became in the business described above. In 1890 the firm doubled the capacity of their ware-rooms, making their floor space 143,000 square feet in lieu of the 1000 of their first store. The firm has trade all over this country and somewhat abroad.

Mr. Tobey is president of the Trustees of Rush Medical College, of the Society for Ethical Culture, and treasurer and a director of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society. He retains the old homestead at Dennis and has built and maintains a very large and famous hotel at the seashore in the town, which bears the aboriginal name of NobsCUSSETT House.

Mr. Tobey has entered the Illinois Society of Sons of The American Revolution on the basis of the services of his great-grandfather (Lieut. Seth Tobey, 1716-1801), and of his maternal ancestors, Capt. Jonathan Howes and Capt. Elisha Bassett.

Mr. Tobey has been a liberal helper of the making of this book.

we go to press at the ripe age of ninety-four years. She is a lineal descendant of Rev. James Keith, the Scotchman who came over to New England on finishing his education at Aberdeen and was the pastor of the infant church at Middleboro. Among the intermarrying families in her lineage were those of Edson, Washburn, Conant and Bryant, worthy lines of the old Pilgrim stock.

Mr. Tobey entered into the cotton manufacturing business in early life but afterwards turned his attention to the iron business in the line of the manufacture of nails. He was a clear-headed and far-sighted man, advancing promptly with the improvements in the art, and carried the business forward with marked success. His son has followed in the same occupation. The industry has been of much value to the people of Wareham as well as to the manufacturers themselves. Besides this attention to the making of good articles for good money Mr. Tobey became a sagacious investor and was entrusted with responsibilities for the public. He was chosen president of the Wareham Bank and of the Savings Bank, occupying the positions upwards of a score of years; was a director in railroad and mining enterprises, cotton and other factories and other industries. His policy was honest and strong, brave in times of depression but invariably redeeming his promises and upholding the credit of the institutions for which he stood. He was also an excellent public speaker and took part in important public movements to some degree; and was liberal toward objects which commended themselves to his judgment. He died of anemia Dec. 25, 1870.

RUFUS BABCOCK⁷ (Charles Richmond,⁶ Lemuel,⁵ Thomas,⁴ Jonathan,³ Jonathan,² *Thomas*¹), born in New Bedford, May 6, 1849; married first, June 21, 1882, Caroline Mary, daughter of Henry Oscar and Avis J. (Eaton) Gifford, born Oct. 3, 1852, died April 3, 1890. He married second, at Quincy, May 12, 1892, Genevieve Rebecca, sister of his former wife, born at Monkton, Vt., Oct. 11, 1854. He had business experience at New Bedford, at Kingston, and afterward in the store of R. H. White & Co., Boston. He then fitted for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, and was graduated from Amherst in 1877 and from Andover Theological Seminary in 1880. Received the degree of A.M. from Amherst College in 1881. Was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church at Harwich, Nov. 30, 1880, and remained there until 1883, when, imbued with the missionary spirit, he went to Helena, Montana; there he completed the organization of a church and continued as pastor till 1885. He also had brief pastorate at Carrington, S. D., and Ashburnham, Mass.

From Ashburnham he was called, in 1888, to the position of associate pastor of Berkeley Temple, Boston, with Rev. Chas. A. Dickinson. His unusual abilities as an organizer and worker found in the work of this institutional church fuller opportunity for their best expression. Practical, yet possessed of liveliest sympathies, he worked among the young people, the poor, the unfortunate, to whom the work of this church made its strongest appeal; and much of the success of this new departure in religious effort in Boston was due to his wise direction of the department coming under his special care.

Desiring a wider field for his abilities, or rather, realizing the wider field outside the church in which he might extend his usefulness, in 1895 he resigned from his position and organized the Memorial Trust. This philanthropy and charity found the scope of its efforts in its motto: Nihil humani alienum, "Nothing that pertains to humanity is foreign to me;" and the range of its helpfulness may almost be said to be the varied needs of the poor, the perplexed, the unfortunate in a cosmopolitan city, its assistance being sought not only by individuals but by kindred philanthropies.

Besides the Memorial Trust, Mr. Tobey was the founder of The Ingleside, a successful work for homeless and untrained girls (now under other direction), and of The Boston Floating Hospital, a work which has attracted attention not only at home but abroad, and whose beneficence will always be associated with his name. Unique in its character and work it is, perhaps, one of the most helpful of Boston's noble list of philanthropies.

As to this Tobey Genealogy it is proper to say that Mr. Tobey began many years ago to feel a strong affection for the family connections of that father who was not spared for him to know; and he gathered a good deal of information on the subject from that personal motive. At length he conceived the scheme of bringing into existence this genealogy, and has contributed freely of money and time to make it a success.

The writer of this article (C. H. P.) testifies to the fervent spirit which has characterized the whole undertaking, and trusts the family at large will not forget the debt due to Rufus Babcock Tobey for this work.

His early days were spent on the farm in York and afterward at Mt. Victory, Hardin Co., O., where his father carried on a shoe shop. Then he worked at the carpenter's trade, going to school winters. Then peddled pumps for a firm at Kenton. With his earnings he went to Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, O. for three months at one time and six at another. Studied medicine with Dr. William Watt at Kenton, and, by his father's loans, was enabled to go to Miami Medical College at Cincinnati, O., where he graduated in 1875. PART SECOND

JAMES OF KITTERY, ME., AND HIS DESCENDANTS

JAMES TOBEY OF KITTERY, ME., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

JAMES¹ TOBEY was in Kittery, in the district of Maine, at a very early day, probably by the year 1665. The earliest date when a grant of land was made to him from the town (in its regular distribution to settlers) is June 24, 1687. But there is mention in the records of the county court for the year 1669 of a witness in the case of Mary Green, named "Katherine Tobee." Mr. Stackpole (in the admirable History of Kittery) suggests this may have been the first wife of James Tobey. At all events after 1687 the records of the town make frequent mention of the man and his sons. He was the father of quite a large family, some of whom were of age in 1688, indicating that James was adult as early as 1665 certainly; this would carry his own birth back to the neighborhood of 1640, we may estimate. The term "old" which was applied to him at the time of his tragic death in 1705 might have been used concerning a man of sixty or upwards. No very close approximation to his age can be made from these data, it will be seen.

He was evidently a farmer by occupation, whether bred to that or to some other avocation. His social position is shewn by the term "yeoman" used in his deed of land to his sons. He belonged to that grand middle class of Englishmen who gave to our country the most earnest, adventurous, aspiring materials for the founding of a nation. Unquestionably he was a native of England, since the very small number of persons in New England in the colonial period who were Scotch, Irish or of other nationality were so mentioned in the town and county records with great particularity. But we find no trace of the former residence of the man nor of his relatives in any document of the period. He was a man of energy and character, well esteemed in his community, lamented at his death. The very imperfect records of the town deny us details such as we desire; but there is good evidence of his worth in the upright and reputable character of his children.

He married before 1659 a wife who bore him the children who reached maturity before the close of the century. It may be entirely reasonable to suppose that she was the "Katherine" of whom mention has already been made. But she died, and the widower found a second consort in the person of a widowed neighbor, Ann Hanscomb, whose husband, Thomas Hanscomb, had been a worthy citizen of the town. She survived Mr. Tobey and was living in 1720 when the Hanscomb estate was finally divided.

The Indians came down on the settlements of the valley of the Piscataqua and other neighboring districts of New Hampshire and Maine very fiercely and with hawk-like swiftmess; many of the people were captured, a larger number shot or tomahawked.

On one of the most savage of these raids the diary of Pike tells us that "Old James Tobey of Kittery and his son James were killed," along with others. The particulars are not given. It was a sad cutting off of valuable members of the infant settlement, a mournful experience for the Kittery people in general and the Tobey family in particular.

So sudden a death gave no time for the making of a will. But the kind father had already anticipated the close of life, and had bestowed the principal portion of his estate on his sons. We have the deeds on record by which he conveyed part of his lands, and another deed made after his death by the remaining children in transfer of other property. To these documents we are indebted for a number of facts of importance about the family, as will be seen by careful reading of those we here present.

James Tobey, Senior, gave his son Stephen four acres of land in Kittery, May 7, 1695; and in the autumn following made the deed of gift which we present in full below:

DEED OF JAMES TOBEY, SENIOR.

Acknowledged 16 Sept. 1695.

In 1702 he sold to Stephen one half of a grant of 20 acres which had been granted to him May 16, 1694.

After Mr. Tobey's death his son Stephen administered on the estate, presenting his account 11 February, 1705-6. The following transfer took place afterward:

Richard Tobey of Portsmouth, with his wife Martha; Isaac Tobey, of Kittery; John Paul, of Kittery, and his wife Margaret; with Mary Tobey, of Kittery, sold to their brother Stephen Tobey, of Kittery, Dec. 16, 1706, all their rights in lands formerly owned by their father, James Tobey late of Kittery, deceased. [York Deeds, vii, 63.] Nearly twenty years later Mary, having married Robert Jordan and removed to Falmouth, quitclaimed all her possible interest in these lands to her brother Isaac.

Children, birth-dates wanting:

2. i. Stephen,² b. probably about 1665.
- ii. James; deposed at Dover, giving his age such as to indicate that he was born about 1667; was killed by the Indians at the same time as his father.
3. iii. John.
4. iv. William.
5. v. Richard.
6. vi. Isaac.
- vii. Margaret; m. John Paul.
- viii. Mary; m. in 1706, Robert Jordan, second son of Rev. Robert Jordan, the pioneer minister of Richmond Island, later a resident of Portsmouth, by his wife Sarah, daughter of Mr. John Winter, another important pioneer. Mary, wife of Robert Jordan, Senior, of Falmouth, in the county of York, sold 12 Feb., 1735-6, to Isaac Tobey of Portsmouth, in the province of New Hampshire, all her right and title [to lands] in Kittery. [York Deeds 17, 271.]

John & Robert

SECOND GENERATION.

STEPHEN² (*James*¹), born probably about 1665; married in Dover, N. H., Nov. 29, 1688, Hannah, daughter of Charles and Mary Nelson (formerly of Kittery, but then of Newington, N. H.). He was a jurymen in 1690 and 1691. He was a shipwright. His home was in Kittery. He received a gift of land from his father, Sept. 16, 1695, and bought another tract of the administrator of John Green's estate, Jan. 13, 1695-6. He had still another piece from his father in 1702.

"In company with Joseph and Matthew Libbey, Daniel Fogg and Joseph Hammond he purchased in Dec. 1699, the Bay Land or Knowles purchase (in what is now the town of Eliot), extending from Frank's Fort to Watts' Fort by the river, fronting on the river at the Long Reach, then back to Marsh Hill. His portion of the shore was set off on the southeast side of the lot."

He built vessels at Mast Cove. With his wife Hannah he sold, May 16, 1701, land which he had formerly purchased in the above-mentioned partnership.

He was one of the founders of the (Congregational) church in the North Parish of Kittery (now Eliot), in 1721.

He signed his name "Stephen Tobey" as witness to the will of his father-in-law, Charles Nelson, 7 Aug., 1688, and to a deed of land to Jacob Smith, May 16, 1701. He conveyed lands to his sons Samuel, John and Stephen Jr., in 1735, and to Stephen, Jr., in 1743. May 7, 1737, he joined with two neighbors, "all above the age of 70," in testimony relative to a resident in Kittery "60 years ago." [York Deeds, 20, 31.] His wife Hannah joined with him, 19 Oct., 1748, in deeding all his personal and moveable estate, and his rights in Berwick derived from Charles Nelson, to his son Stephen, Jr.

Children:

- i. Katherine,³ b. Oct. 25, 1689.
7. ii. Samuel, b. Jan. 31, 1692.
8. iii. James, b. Oct. 21, 1694.
9. iv. John, b. Jan. 2, 1699.
10. v. Stephen, b. Jan. 3, 1702.
- vi. Hannah, b. Jan. 10, 1705-6; m. (1) Jan. 7, 1724-5, Robert Staples; m. (2) Nov. 16, 1757, Nathaniel Libbey.

JOHN² (*James*¹), born as early as 1668; signed, "John Tobey," as a witness, in the will of Charles Nelson, in 1688; received with his brother William, in 1695, a deed of land from their father [see full text ante]; also had a grant of land in Kittery in 1699. Either he or his nephew John is several times mentioned as a landholder in Kittery. Perhaps the person the town clerk intended by "John Tobe," who was published Oct. 31, 1735, to Leah Smart, he "of Kittery," she "of Derim" [Durham?], may have been this man or a son of his; but nothing further has been learned about them.

WILLIAM² (*James*¹), born at date to us unknown, but probably about 1670; resided in Kittery up to the year 1695 at least, when he and his brother John received a joint deed of their father's homestead and chattels, on condition of paying him half the income and paying bequests to brothers and sisters.

RICHARD² (*James*¹), born about 1676; removed to Portsmouth, N. H., and married Martha, daughter of Samuel Heard of Dover, N. H. Evidence of this relationship appears in a deed of Richard and Martha, March 3, 1717-8, quitclaiming all right in the estate of her father Samuel and her brother John Heard, to her uncle Tristram Heard and her brother Samuel Heard. [N. H. Deeds, XII., 576.] Martha was "received into y^e Covenant and baptized" in the Portsmouth church, July 14, 1708. Their children were duly baptized in infancy, as the records, fragmentary though they are, show us.

Richard was a cordwainer or shoemaker, a busy man; when elected constable, that is tax collector, in 1720, he preferred to pay the stated fine rather than perform the duties of the office. Chosen one of the "Tything men," whose duty it was to preserve order in meeting, he accepted the trust, in 1721 and 1722. He accumulated some property, and we have deeds showing how it was disposed of by him and by his heirs. He had some land in the new plantation of Barrington, not far away, and this he sold in 1738-9. That he was a member of the church is shown by the fact of his election to the duty of aiding in maintaining the decorum of the house of God. He passed away not far from the year 1746, perhaps; his wife was named among the members of the church at the ordination of Rev. Samuel Langdon, in 1747.

His children scattered from the homestead before his death in some cases, the remainder soon after.

He performed military duty in the critical time of the Indian wars.

"Richard Tobey" is mentioned among Portsmouth men who served Aug. 30 to Sept. 10, 1708, in "A List of Souldiers Names: and Time they Served att her Majestics ffourt W^m and Mary : at New Castle in the province of New Hampshire, New England 1708."

"Rich^d. Tobey" is enrolled as "from Coll. Vaughans," in "A Muster Roll of the Souldiers under My Command in A Scout 1712" filed by Capt. James Davis. [N. H. State Papers.]

He conveyed half of his house in Portsmouth to his son Isaac, Jan. 10, 1735. This was sold by the son after the death of his father.

Isaac Tobey of Portsmouth, cordwainer, sold to Edward Brooks of Portsmouth, mariner, April 11, 1741, half his dwelling house in P., formerly belonging to his father Richard Tobey of Portsmouth. Signed by "Isaac Tobey" and Elizabeth his wife.

Solomon Staples of Kittery, Me., shipwright, and Martha, his wife; John Walden of Portsmouth, shipwright, and Lydia, his wife; Abigail Toby of Portsmouth, single woman and spinster; Samuel Tobey of Portsmouth, turner, and Mary Tobey of Portsmouth, single woman and spinster, sold to Edward Brooks of Portsmouth, mariner, Aug. 2, 1746, all their title in "the late Mansion House and Garden thereto belonging that was the Mansion House and Garden of Richard Tobey late of Portsmouth aforesaid Cordwain^r Deceased Father of the Said Martha, Lidia, Abigail, Samuel and Mary.

Mary Toby Widow, Samuel Toby Chairmaker, William Tobey Mariner, John Knight Labourer, & Sarah his wife, John Toby Labourer, John Jones Mariner, & Polly his wife, all of Portland in the county of Cumberland, Mass., sold for £7-10 to Jacob Waldron of Portsmouth, Merchant, all their right to a house & lot in Portsmouth on High street. [The date is wanting, but the deed was acknowledged Dec. 13, 1788, and recorded at Exeter March 18, 1789.]

From the church records and these deeds we can make out the list of children, though it is manifestly imperfect.

Children:

19. i. Samuel.³

THIRD GENERATION.

SAMUEL³ (Stephen,² *James*¹), born June 30, 1692; married, Dec. 29, 1720, Mary, daughter of John and Mary (Diamond) Spinney; her mother was widowed and married second, ——— Burnham of Kittery; in her will, Dec. 4, 1733, she made bequest to her "daughter Mary Tobey." Samuel and Mary joined in deeds of land with other Spinney heirs in 1732 and 1749, and sold land inherited from her father Nov. 6, 1761. After her husband's death she sold other tracts 18 May, 1773. Samuel, John and Stephen made a division of a tract they had owned together in Berwick, 5 May, 1767. He gave to his son Samuel, 3 Aug. 1762, his homestead farm and certain other lands, to be possessed after the death of himself and wife.

JOHN³ (Stephen,² *James*¹), born Jan. 2, 1699; married Elizabeth, daughter of James and Mary (Tetherly) Staple. They were published 9 Nov. 1723. She died in Sept., 1769. He was a farmer. He and his wife sold, 15 March, 1755, her interest in the estate of her deceased father, James Staple. He died Dec. 6, 1778, bequeathing his property to his daughters Mary Foster and Hannah Tobey and his son John; will proved Jan. 4, 1779.

STEPHEN³ (Stephen,² *James*¹), born in Kittery, Me., Jan. 2, 1702; married first, Oct. 25, 1726, Anne, daughter of Peter and Mary (Lang) Staples. After her death he married second, Nov. 30, 1749, Margaret, daughter of Daniel and Margaret (Gowen) Emery. He resided on his father's homestead. He acquired land in "Pudding Hole Common" in partnership with Richard Rice, and sold it 14 March, 1747. He and Margaret sold, 27 Jan. 1752, land in Berwick inherited from her father, Daniel Emery. He died about 1788.

Stephen Tobey of Kittery, yeoman, bought land in Falmouth, Me., Oct. 16, 1765, and sold it July 7, 1787.

The widow Margaret made her will 16 Sept. 1788, proved 20 April, 1795, bequeathing to her "son in law" Stephen Tobey, daughter Lois Kelley, Nathaniel Gerrish, Thomas Claridge, and Ann Claridge, Elizabeth Avery and her own brothers and sisters.

Children:

- i. Eunice,⁴ bapt. in May, 1729; m. Aug. 23, 1750, Jonathan Gerrish.
- ii. Hannah, bapt. Aug. 2, 1730.
- iii. Anna, bapt. Nov., 1732; m. Thomas Claridge.

He died childless, leaving a will dated 12 April, proved 15 May, 1800, bequeathing his property to his wife Mary, sisters Anne Claridge, Lois Kelley, Martha Ham and Eunice Gerrish; to Stephen Claridge of Newfield, son of Thos. Claridge, and to Thalys Black. His widow d. in 1814.

- vi. Martha, bapt. Sept., 1742; m. ——— Ham.

SAMUEL³ (Richard,² *James*¹), born in Portsmouth, N. H.; married Mary, daughter of Samuel and Sarah (Cotton) Pickering, of Portsmouth. Her mother was a daughter of Benjamin Cotton, and Samuel Tobey with Mary, his wife, sold their rights in the Cotton estate April 4, 1749, detailing the relationship.

Samuel was a turner and chair-maker. He "recognized his baptismal covenant" and was received to full communion in the church March 5, 1748-9. He was a worthy and valuable citizen. He served in the Colonial Wars.

Samuel Tobey is in a list of men in Abraham Trefethen's company of men drawn from Col. Moore's regiment at Canso, April 15, 1745, and served to July 9, 1745, "in the late expedition against Louisbourg". He petitioned with some of his comrades July 11, 1747, for "smart money as compensation for their sufferings and the want of the necessities and comforts [of life] in the late expedition to Louisbourg." He reported "41 days in which he had no rum and 9 that he had no bread; 15 gallons of molasses for 6 men for the whole time and no butter and no sugar."

He was one of the inhabitants of Portsmouth who petitioned for a grant of land for a township at "Winnepissioiky," Nov. 17, 1748. He also signed a petition the same year for a township on the Merrimac river.

A list of the men under the command of Capt. Job Clement a "Gard for Rochester and Barrenton," N. H., April 7, 1748, includes Samuel Tobey, "monthman."

He removed about the year 1753 to Portland, Me., having sold real estate to George Massey. Feb. 10, 1753, his wife joining in the deed; and on the 24th of the same month he sold "part of the mansion house of his honoured father, Richard Toby, late of Portsmouth." His name is on the tax-list in Portland for the year 1766;—a poll-tax of 5s., 6d.

Samuel Tobey of Portland, turner, bought land on Fore St., May 7, 1799.

In the very fragmentary records of Portland's early history which remain since the destructive fire of 1866, we find only a few items relating to the family. We have no clue to the time of death of either Samuel or Mary, nor full knowledge about his children. Two were baptized at Portsmouth, the name of the second being omitted; it is practicable to identify both of these; we simply write down the somewhat indefinite records regarding the others born in Portland. Mrs. Abbie S. Merrill told of the son John who became a Revolutionary soldier and had a pension, and the daughter Abigail who married Mr. McKnight.

Children:

45. i. William,⁴ bapt. at Portsmouth, N. H., July 15, 1750.
46. ii. Samuel, believed to be the child "of Samuel Tobey" who was bapt. at Portsmouth, N. H., March 15, 1752.

47. iii. John, "a child of ——— Tobey," bapt. at Portland, Oct. 9, 1757.
 iv. "A child of ——— Tobey," bapt. July, 1759.
 v. "A daughter of ——— Tobey," bapt. June 15, 1766.
 vi. "A child, drowned" at Portland, Me., in "Sept., 1766."
 vii. Abigail, "Nabby, of Samuel Tobey," bapt. July 24, 1768; m. ——— McKnight.
 viii. "A child, one year old, died in April, 1769."

20

WILLIAM³ (Richard,² *James*¹) born in Portsmouth, N. H., baptized Sept. 30, 1711; became a sea-captain. Lived in Portland, Me., certainly in his later years, being there at the signing of the family deed of the old homestead in Portsmouth in 1788, as we have seen on a previous page. It has been inferred that he married; yet no wife's right of dower was conveyed along with his own right in the deed above mentioned. He may have been widowed before that date. He was at the time 77 years of age, as we see by reference to the date of his baptism.

William Tobey of Falmouth, mariner, bought land on the Northerly side of the lane that leads to Mariner's Spring, June 18, 1783, and sold it Sept. 11, 1784.

ISAAC³ (Richard,² *James*¹), born in Portsmouth, N. H., baptized Jan. 31, 1713-4; married at Hampton, N. H., Jan. 13, 1736-7, Elizabeth Page. His father had already given him half of his house in Portsmouth,— Jan. 10, 1735. This, as we have seen in the article on the father, Isaac and Elizabeth sold in 1741. He learned his father's trade of cordwainer. He removed to Hampton Falls, N. H. He was called into the service of the country, in the French and Indian War, as we see from the following petition; for although it was not granted it is evidence of the facts there stated.

"Isaac Tobey of Hampton Falls," in a petition dated Jan. 15, 1760, stated "That your petitioner was a soldier in the service of this Province, the Summer Past, That while he was in the Service at Sarratoga he had his Gun Stolen." He asked for an allowance for the same. The petition was marked "dismissed"; but was filed without any controverting of the statements it contained. Only the Province could not see the way clear to recompense the man for the lost piece. [New Hamp-State Papers.]

Children:

50. i. Richard.⁴
51. ii. William.
52. iii. Samuel Brooks, b. about 1748.
53. iv. Page, b. in 1750.

He was a sea-captain. Bought land in Kittery, part of the Mitchell homestead, 6 July, 1767. His father sold him land at Simmons' brook, 13 Sept. 1768; this deed he assigned to John Tobey, Jr., for a consideration, 16 May, 1770.

He died before Nov. 29, 1791, when claims were filed against his estate, Stephen Hanscom administrator; the liabilities exceeded the property.

Division of the estate of William Tobey, late of Kittery, was made 30 April, 1808, between Josiah Tobey (with his wife Elizabeth), William Tobey, John Woodman and Andrew Tobey of Kittery. Josiah Tobey, Jr., was one of the witnesses.

NATHANIEL⁴, (Samuel,³ Stephen,² *James*¹), born at Kittery in Sept., 1742; married (published June 11, 1768) Anne Tapley of Pepperell Borough.

33

JOHN⁴ (John,³ Stephen,² *James*¹), born Nov. 12, 1733; married (published 10 Oct., 1767) Anne, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Fernald) Fogg, born 2

March, 1739. He died between the 16th July, 1779, when he bought the rights of his sister in their father's estate and the setting off of his sister Mary Foster's portion of their father's estate, one half—"he having left no male heir"—May 3, 1802. John, Jr.'s daughter Elizabeth was appointed administratrix of his estate Sept. 24, 1801.

Children:

- i. Elizabeth,⁵ b. 6 Nov., 1768; m. 28 Dec. 1802, Ezra Libby (his second wife).
- ii. Anna, b. Aug. 19, 1772; m. Joseph Staples. They sold, 28 Nov. 1806, that portion of a tract of land which had once belonged to John Tobey and his brothers Samuel and Stephen, and had been assigned to John in their division, Dec. 22, 1742, and had descended to Anna by inheritance.

WILLIAM⁴ (Samuel,³ Richard,² *James*¹), born in Portsmouth, N. H., baptized July 15, 1750; removed with his father to Portland, Me. He was married in Falmouth by Rev. Dr. Deane, Sept. 9, 1773, to Tabitha Brackett; he married, July 17, 1785, Mitty (Submit) Cox. "William Tobey's wife died of consumption June 10, 1784" tells us of Tabitha's death, although the record states the woman's age at "88"; but the second marriage makes it evident that the woman who died was Tabitha; and as we also have record of the death of "a child of William Tobey," dying "of consumption" in October, 1783, at the age of one year, the writer believes that the record of the wife's age should read 33, which clearly applies to this case. Tabitha Tobey was admitted to the First Church, Aug. 21, 1774, and the children were baptized in due time. Mrs. Submit Tobey died after bearing at least five children, and "Capt. William Tobey of Portland" married, June 1, 1813, Mercy, daughter of Richard Tobie of New Gloucester (No. 50). She outlived him and died in Levant, Me., Oct., 1863. [Rev. A. Titus.] He built a house on Hampshire street, in Portland. He was a sea captain, an intelligent, efficient man.

William Tobey of Portland, yeoman, bought land in Portland Nov. 16, 1786.

William Tobey and Submit, his wife, in her right, joined with Elizabeth, relict of Benj. Stevens, Sally Cox, Moses Cox and others, in a quitclaim deed of land May 28, 1800.

William Tobey, mariner, mortgaged his house and land on Hampshire St., Portland, to Sally Sanborn of Portland, single woman, Oct. 26, 1812; discharged, paid April 26, 1818, as by her signature in the margin.

The loss of the town records and most of the other early documents of Portland—among the ravages of the great conflagration—compels us to construct the list of children of this large and important family from the records of the First Church and from private sources. By dint of minute inquiries and scrupulous care we have a list which we hope contains no errors. Much of the information regarding this family came from Mrs. Martha Abigail Sanborn Merrill of Searsport, Me., who died in 1902, aged 90 years, and from Mrs. Martha A. Robinson, of Portland, Me.

Children:

- i. Mercy,⁵ bapt. Sept. 18, 1774.
- ii. Tabitha, bapt. June 16, 1776; m. Jonathan Stevens.
- iii. Mercy, bapt. Nov. 16, 1777; m. Joseph Stevens.

RICHARD¹ (Isaac,³ Richard,² *James*¹), married at Seabrook, N. H., April 28, 1768, Jemima Haskell. [Town Record.] He was a respected citizen of the little town; chosen to serve on the county grand jury in 1778 and 1780; elected a member of the board of selectmen in 1778 and continued in the office several years. Chosen one of the assessors in 1788.

He and his brothers have the distinction of being the first of the Kittery family to sign their name "Tobie," so far as records show, and their descendants have religiously adhered to the example set them in this respect.

"Richard Tobie of Seabrook, N. H., yeoman, and Jemima, his wife, sold for $200 to Jemima, wife of Edward Melcher of Kensington, N. H., land on the highway to Kensington, Nov. 4, 1788.

The spirit of adventure which led older men of the family to seek new fields for enterprise led him to the central district of Maine, whither many of the most vigorous sons of Massachusetts and New Hampshire were in those days removing. He found a spot which attracted him in New Gloucester in Cumberland county, Maine, and thither he removed.

Richard Tobie of New Gloucester, Massachusetts Bay, gentleman, sold to Willard Emery of Hampton Town, N. H., gentleman, for £6, 4 acres in Mossey Swamp in Hampton Town, it being the land that was Anthony Emery, Esquire's, Sept. 18, 1789. To this the wife's signature is not appended; probably she was in Maine and the possibility of her demanding the right of dower seemed too small for the grantee to require her signature.

He was born June 26, 1740, and died in New Gloucester Oct. 8, 1827, OBITUARY.

Died in New Gloucester (Me.) Oct. 8, 1827, Mr. Richard Tobie. At the commencement of the Revolutionary War the deceased was appointed an officer under the Continental Congress, which office he sustained until a short time before the close of the war, when he relinquished it, and was chosen a lieutenant in a volunteer company. Shortly after this the news of peace came, and they did not leave the town of Hampton Falls, N. H. In 1789 he removed to New Gloucester, Me., where by industry and frugality he acquired a valuable property; in 1799 he was baptized and joined the Baptist church in that town, of which he was a worthy and exemplary member till the time of his death. He was kind and affectionate in his family and beloved by all who knew him; he retained his reason till the last, and would discourse upon events which took place sixty or seventy years ago with surprising accuracy. His memory was strong and retentive. His descendants were thirteen children, sixty-nine grandchildren and twenty-four great grandchildren, in all one hundred and six, ninety-one of whom were living at the time of his death.

WILLIAM⁴ (Isaac,³ Richard,² *James*¹), born in Hampton Falls, N. H. We may naturally suppose him to be the William Tobey, of Poplin, N. H., joiner, who bought 125 acres of land in the township of Nottingham, parish of Deerfield, N. H., for £102, May 3, 1774. His son William Tobie, of Deerfield, husbandman, sold an undivided half of this tract "which my honoured father William Tobey deceased bought of Josiah Bartlett," Oct. 1, 1792; and Nathan Tobie of Deerfield, husbandman, sold the other half, specifying his relationship, etc., Nov. 19, 1792.

SAMUEL BROOKS⁴ (Isaac,³ Richard,² *James*¹), born at Hampton Falls, N. H., in 1749 (as by record of death); removed when a boy to Weare, N. H., and was "bound out" to Jonathan Dow. On reaching his majority he married Elizabeth, daughter of Lieut. Samuel Caldwell. He set up house-keeping on the highest hill in town, since called by his name. Kept store and farmed. His wife shared the hardships and toils of rough pioneering. She survived him, and died Aug. 19, 1848, aged 99 years, 2 months and 8 days. Their house was a hospitable establishment. He was often a town officer, and several terms representative to the Legislature; became very wealthy, considerably influential; was distinguished alike for ability, hospitality, excessive drinking and an ungoverned temper. The history of Weare gives these facts and many details.

He had no children. Adopted Mrs. Tobie's niece, Bessie McNeil, who afterward married a Mr. Mudge; the daughter of this couple, Esther, married Nathan Philbrick and inherited the Tobie farm.

Among the deeds of Samuel Brooks Tobie on record are two of importance, genealogically: April 16, 1773, he sold a lot of land in Hampton which he had purchased in 1772; Sept. 30, 1778, he sold a lot in Bow which had been given to him by his "Aunt Manton." [Exeter Deeds, 117, 195.]

He died Jan. 31, 1836, aged 87 years.

PAGE¹ (Isaac,³ Richard,² *James*¹), born in Hampton Falls, N. H. Settled in Falmouth, Me. He was a housewright; bought land June 11, 1772. Married a wife named Betty, who joined him in a deed July 22, 1774. He removed to North Yarmouth, Me., and sold his Falmouth land May 16, 1794. He served in the Revolution, as the following extracts from the Mass. Archives show.

Page (Tobie), on a billeting roll of Capt. John Worthy's co., Col. Edmund Phinney's regt., from May 8 to July 11, 1775; served 64 days; res. Falmouth, Me.

Page appears on a receipt dated Cambridge, Feb. 20, 1776, for pay for Nov. and Dec. 1775, signed by himself and others; received of lieutenant Crispus Graves.

Page (Toby), private, on a pay abstract of Capt. William Cobb's co., Col. Jonathan Mitchell's regt. mileage sworn to at North Yarmouth, Nov. 26, 1779; res. New Casco. Detachment raised in Cumberland Co., for services on Penobscot expedition; reported as having first drawn rations at Falmouth and as discharged there; and as marching July 8 to Aug. 30, 1779.

In a Descriptive List of Men received in the County of Cumberland to serve in the army of the United States, printed in "Old Times in North Yarmouth," vol. 3, p. 338, we find:

"Page Tobie, 32 years old, 5 ft. 8 in. high, of dark complexion, with gray eyes, black hair; a housewright, residence Falmouth" (Me.), enlisted for F. for 3 years May 31, 1782, in Morrill's company, Hilsley's regiment. On the back of the paper he signed a promise June 3, 1782, that he would deliver himself, Joshua Wescott, Cato Frost and Dublin Titcomb to Major Pettingill at Boston in the most expeditious manner. Other soldiers endorsed similar promises on the paper."

In 1873 he became interested in the "Reform Club" movement, an advocate of total abstinence for the individual and prohibition for the state. In 1878 he established a Gospel Mission in Portland, Me., which became a headquarters for charity and reform work. He was not only active in Maine and the other states of this Union but went abroad and lectured throughout the British Isles under the auspices of the British Temperance Society, securing 100,000 pledges. He was ordained to the ministry at Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 6, 1879. His work consisted largely of expositions of the fearful miseries caused by ardent spirits, and the administering of the pledge. His lectures "Seven Years in Hell," and "Man Inside Out" he delivered hundreds of times with telling effect. In 1900 he was elected sheriff of Cumberland County,

Me. He enforced the law impartially, heroically against a combination of desperate criminals and their "respectable" allies, but won the admiration and respect of all while driving the criminals to their dens. He died amidst his labor, Aug. 6, 1902, of Bright's disease. His wife had died Jan. 4, 1901, just after his entrance on his office, leaving him the brave charge "Be a good sheriff."
